Might Have.

I have lived my life, and I face the end,
But that other life I might have led?
Where lay the road, and who was its friend?
And what was the goal, when the years were fled?

Where lay the road? Did I miss the turn?
The friend unknown? Our greetings unsaid?
And the goal unsought? Shall I never learn What was that life I might have led?

As the spring's last look, for one dear day From skies autumnal on earth may be,
So lure me that other life—but nay!
I have lived my life, and I face the end.

Set.

Washington Gossip.

The White House has definitely announced that the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth will take place February 17th, at noon, in the East Room of the White House. The ceremony will be performed by the Episcopal Bishop of Washington, the Right Rev.
H. Y. Satterlee, says "Town and Country," assisted by the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. Johns.

It is expected that Mr. Buckner Wallingford, of Cincinnati, Mr. Longworth's brother-in-law, will act as best man. Mr.
Benson Foraker, son of Senator Foraker, of Ohio, and Representative Robert Adams, of Pennsylvania, will be two of the ushers. Mr. Adams is that same "Bertie" Adams, the popular bachelor-congressman, who won a great part of his fame by introducing the whippingpost for wife-beaters.

Vicente de Chambrun, also a brother-in-law of the groom, may be another usher. The Ambassador to Vienna, the Hon. Belmont Storer, whose wife is an aunt to the prospective bridegroom, has applied to the State Department for leave of absence in order that he and Mrs.
Storer may be present at the wedding.

Meanwhile, entertaining in honor of the affianced couple, waxes merrier. The Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks gave a dinner-dance on January 2d, in their honor. At the dinner covers were laid for thirty, and the guests from other dinner parties came in for the dance. Colonel and Mrs. Brownell and Mr. and Mrs.
Alexander Legare were hosts of the same evening. Senator and Mrs. Elkins entertained on Thursday last in honor of Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth, and on January 28th Secretary of War and Mrs.
Taft will give a dinner of twenty covers with the same happy pair as honorary guests, the dinner to be followed by a big reception to the members of the Philippine party.

The Charity Ball.

The Southern Charity Ball, at the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C., this evening, January 16th, promises to be the most brilliant social event of the season.

Extensive preparations have been made for this function, and a large number of tickets disposed of. Miss Natalie Randolph Heth, daughter of the late General Harry Heth, is president of the society, having succeeded Mrs. Lindsay Lomax.

Mrs. Rosalie Hillyday Bock, the chairman of the executive committee, has the arrangements in charge, and this alone would insure its success, since she proved a most efficient chairman last year, and every detail was carried out with the most perfect system.

Mrs. Bock is a native of Maryland, and is the widow of Mr. James Bock, of Lynchburg, Va. She is also a first cousin of Mr. H. St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition.

The United States Marine Band and the Thirteenth Cavalry Band will furnish the music for the ball, and both of the connecting ball rooms at Willard's will be thrown open for dancing and promenading. The supper will be served downstairs in the regular dining room, several hundred being seated at one time.

The proceeds of these balls go to the aid of needy Confederate veterans and their families.

MY MARYLAND

By JAMES RYDER RANDALL.

"My Maryland," one of the most popular of Southern civil war songs, called "The Marseilles of the Confederacy," was written by James Ryder Randall, a native of Baltimore and now a resident of Augusta, Ga. At the outbreak of the war Mr. Randall was Professor of English Literature and the Classics at Poydras College, Louisiana. As "My Maryland" shows, he was an ardent secessionist, and the poem was the result of his desire to help the Southern cause. The words were soon adapted to the music of an old song. Mr. Randall, who is a journalist by profession, is now sixty-five years of age. He wrote several poems and war ballads.

THE despot's heel is on thy shore,
Maryland!
His torch is at thy temple door,
Maryland!
Avenge the patriotic gore
That flecked the streets of Baltimore,
And be the battle-queen of yore,
Maryland, my Maryland!

Hark to an exiled son's appeal,
Maryland!
My Mother State, to thee I kneel,
Maryland!
For life and death, for woe and weal, Thy peerless chivalry reveal,
And gird thy beauteous limbs with steel,
Maryland, my Maryland!

Thou wilt not cower in the dust,
Maryland!
Thy beaming sword shall never rust,
Maryland!
Remember Carroll's sacred trust, Remember Howard's warlike thrust, And all thy slumberers with the just,
Maryland, my Maryland!

Come! 'tis the red dawn of the day,
Maryland!
Come, with thy panoplied array,
Maryland!
With Ringgold's spirit for the fray,
With Watson's blood at Monterey, With fearless Lowe and dashing May,
Maryland, my Maryland!

Dear Mother, burst the tyrant's chain,
Maryland!
Virginia should not call in vain,
Maryland!
She meets her sisters on the plain—
"Go, sleeper!" 'tis the proud refrain That baffles minions back again,
Maryland!

Arise in majesty again,
Maryland, my Maryland!

Come! for thy shield is bright and strong,
Maryland!
Come! for thy dalliance does thee wrong,
Maryland!
Come to thine own heroic throng, Stalking with Liberty along,
And chant thy dauntless slogan-song,
Maryland, my Maryland!

I see the blush upon thy cheek,
Maryland!
For thou wast ever bravely meek,
Maryland!
But lo! there surges forth a shriek,
From hill to hill, from creek to creek, Potomac calls to Chesapeake,
Maryland, my Maryland!

Thou wilt not yield the Vandal toll,
Maryland!
Thou wilt not crook to his control,
Maryland!
Better the fire upon thee roll,
Better the shot, the blade, the bowl,
Than crucifixion of the soul,
Maryland, my Maryland!

I hear the distant thunder-hum,
Maryland!
The Old Line's bugle, fife and drum,
Maryland!
She is not dead, nor deaf, nor dumb;
Huzza! she spurs the Northern scum—She breathes! She burns! She'll come! she'll come!
Maryland, my Maryland!

AMONG THE CLUBS.

At the Woman's Club.

A large and representative audience of Richmond ladies gathered at the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon to hear Mrs. Charles W. Culp, who read a paper on "A Tribute to Woman as the Under-current in the World's History." Mrs. Culp has a beautiful voice and her every word was well received and distinct. She paid a glowing tribute to women, calling over a few illustrious names, such as Caroline Herschel and Rosa Bonheur, who have carved for themselves a niche, where woman has heretofore had no place; and who have, in spite of their high place, retained their full measure of womanliness.
She then spoke of the many women to whom no fame had come, but who, nevertheless, made their influence felt to the farthest ends of the earth.
In closing, Mrs. Culp said that as she had given the woman's view of the matter, she would now give the man's, and she then read an exquisite little poem, in which a man has set forth his feelings and opinions.
The club rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and the usual afternoon tea followed the lecture.

UNCONSCIOUS POISONING.

How it Often Happens From Coffee.

"I had no idea," writes a Duluth man,
"that it was the coffee I had been drinking all my life that was responsible for the headaches which were growing upon me, for the dyspepsia, that no medicines would relieve, and for the acute nervous ness which untidied me not only for work, but also for the most ordinary social functions."
"But at last the truth dawned upon me. I forthwith made the harmful beverage a prompt farewell, ordered in some Postum and began to use it. The good effects of the new food drink were apparent within a very few days. My headaches grew less frequent, and decreased in violence, my stomach grew strong and able to digest my food without distress of any kind, my nervousness has gone, and I am able to enjoy life with my neighbors and sleep soundly of nights. My physical strength and nerve power have increased so much that I can do double the work I used to do, and feel no undue fatigue afterwards."
"This improvement set in just as soon as the old coffee poison had so worked out of my system as to allow the food elements in the Postum to give the body build me up again. I can truly testify that did all this, for when I began to drink it I threw physic to the dogs."
